Personnel

Natalie Jovic, who was previously approved for a part-time Librarian position in the Children's Department, will not be joining the library staff, and the position has been reposted.

Miscellaneous

The Library closed due to snow on Sunday, December 14, Saturday, December 27, and Sunday, January 18.

Enclosed are the Nassau Library System's 2025 NLS In Brief and staff reports on meetings and outreach.

V. Committee Reports:

Gail Carlin, President of the Friends of the Glen Cove Public Library, presented the 2025 Year in Review and outlined goals for 2026.

In 2025, the Friends held a successful book sale and membership drive, gaining 15 new members, and hosted an open house. They participated in the Library's Trivia Night, author visits, Glen Cove's National Night Out, and the Glen Cove Street Fair, and held a plant sale fundraiser. The Friends also organized a Holiday Get-Together, provided refreshments for the Caroling event, and funded the digitization of records and historic newspapers, as well as supporting various children's programs.

For 2026, the Friends plan to start a free-standing library at the Glen Cove train station. Additional goals include hosting another open house and membership drive, holding a plant sale, participating in the Glen Cove Farmers Market, the Glen Cove Street Fair, and Glen Cove's National Night Out. The Friends would like to increase evening meetings to accommodate working patrons, computerize the Treasurer's books, and continue supporting adult and children's programs.

VI. Old Business:

Motion to approve the Library's updated bylaws was made by R. Leff. Seconded by J. Yee. All in favor.

VII. New Business:
